VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL

The Community Vacation Church School opened Monday with an advance registration of fifty-four and has an attendance at present of seventy. The full program was carried out the first day and everyone has shown a fine spirit of interest and cooperation.

The Primary children who are at the Universalist Church have been studying citizenship along with their religious instruction and have correlated their handwork to it by making little patriotic caps. They have also been learning the salutes to the American and Christian flags.

The Juniors and Intermediates have begun their notebooks on the life of the Boy Jesus and with Scripture memory work are learning their Vacation Church School poem, "Others." The boys have been making jig-saw puzzles for the Near East box and the girls are contributing to it some very attractive scrap-books. The boys have also made some knitting toys for the use of the Primary children. A "Good American Club" has been formed with Ismay Aldrich, intermediate president; David Greenlaw, junior president, and Margaret Anderson, secretary, for the first week. Already the Club have discussed and decided that a "Good American" will try to look after health, exercise self-control, and be self-reliant. One issue of the "Good American News" has been prepared by the editors, Paul Brown and David Greenlaw. New editors will be elected next week. All officers or special helpers are chosen for a week or a day at a time and the honor of good behavior goes with the choice.

All the boys and girls already enrolled are working for a certificate. To earn a certificate one must not miss over four days of the session, must do the required handwork, complete the notebook, and not miss any class unless excused from home.

Friday of each week is Visitor's Day and everyone interested in the school is cordially invited to come and see what the children are doing.

Additional volunteer workers are Mrs. Annie Andrews, Miss Elizabeth Wilde, Miss Thelma Kimball and Norris Marston.

Pine Tree League

Fourth of July Games

All teams in the Pine Tree League doubled with morning and afternoon games before the usual holiday crowds. Split contests marked the day with a number of surprises thrown in. Mechanic Falls lost its first game for the season with the follow-up Livermore Falls doing the trick. On the other hand, Paris unable to win any percentage, smashed a long string of defeats by yanking one from Bridgton. Two extra inning games were played, one at Norway in the afternoon and one other at West Paris.

Following are the results:

Mechanic Falls 10, Livermore Falls, 1.
Livermore Falls 6, Mechanic Falls 2.
Oxford 17, Lisbon Falls 8.
Lisbon Falls 8, Oxford 6.
Norway 6, Rumford 3.
Rumford 7, Norway 5, 10 innings.
Paris 5, Bridgton 1.
Bridgton 9, Paris 5, 10 innings.

Saturday Games

Mechanic Falls continued on its triumphal march toward the victors' cup in Pine Tree League, Saturday, by defeating Paris 8-2. Rumford snatched one from Oxford to the tune of 7-5, due largely to serious miscues offered by the losers. Barrett, the Rumford hurler, was hammered for 17 blows, yet the team won in spite of this pounding.

Norway lost to Lisbon Falls 4-2, taking advantage of four hits off Lefty Marston and several fielding errors. Norway landed on Gilbert for 11 slams, Martin and Purrington featured the triple kind.

Livermore Falls, the follow-ups in the league, met a reverse at Bridgton in a 3-2 battle that went ten innings. Bridgton led 2-1 until the visitors made it even in the ninth. Potts' timely bang in the tenth settled the argument and game closed with two out.

Mrs. George Westleigh had rather of a laughable experience Sunday at her cottage at the Fair Grounds. She made ice-cream for the first time, hoping she would have customers, and sure enough, the last customer took freezers and all so to be sure and have the last bit. They promised to return the freezers in time for more ice cream another Sunday.

The Daughters of Veterans will have a covered dish supper, Friday night at 6.30 preceding the lodge session at 7.30. Members and their families are expected. and it goes without saying that the Sons are expected. Every member is a member of the committee and each one will carry something. The committee on the food and apron sale will make a report and the July committee on the "shoe project" will report results. A large attendance is expected.

Norway sizzled Sunday, with the mercury hitting 90 and humidity correspondingly high. Swimmers flocked to the lake, Papoose Pond, Tripp Lake, Old Orchard and other resorts striving to escape the heat. Showers late in the afternoon brought some relief but wet hay cut that day. The weather Monday was tempered with a breeze kicked up by showers during the early hours. It is said that the temperature was 100 and more in rooms at the shoe factories during Monday forenoon.

Nature Club Outing

Forty-Eight Members of the Nature Club Enjoy Day at Happy Valley Farm

Monday, July 8, forty-eight members and guests of the Twin Town Nature Club gathered at Happy Valley Farm for the fourth annual picnic. They were greeted most cordially by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Robinson and Mrs. Ella Heald and a long, happy day had begun.

The gardens were inspected and found more beautiful than ever. Grandma's vine-clad house which tells silently of days gone by, was open to all and visited with reverence by the Club. It's been long since Grandma left her home, but it's been kept as she left it, through these many years, homey with books and open fires, old china bowls of wild flowers gracing the tables and chests, the poles from which strings of apple and curls of pumpkin used to dry are still there, the four posted beds, whose wood came from old San Domingo, the milk and cheese room with its long shelves, the pantry and cellar suggesting strawberry and damson preserves when "life was young on the old farm."

At noon all climbed twin rock trail for lunch was to be eaten on the hill top, when the top was reached, coffee was boiling over an out door fire and a long table laden with such delicious cakes and pies as one finds only at Happy Valley Farm, huge pots of beans, hot from a nearby bean hole and buckets of cold water from the spring, is it any wonder that the Nature Club considers itself fortunate to be invited to this lovely spot?

After lunch, Pres. A. D. Park called a short business meeting and brief talks were given by Rev. Pliny Allen of Norway, Wilburn Miller of South Paris, Prof. John Parlin of Canton and several others. Miss Elva Dorr invited the Club for a noon picnic at Dorrhaven the first Monday in August.

Some rare ferns and wild flowers were found and sparrows, swallows, chickadees and cedar waxwings were nesting in the yard. All too soon the shadows lengthened and with a vote of thanks and three ringing cheers for host and hostesses, the day was over and the cars went out over the homeward trail.

One of the projects of the Nursing Service is to secure a health examination of the children to begin school this September. Parents are invited to bring the children to the nurse's office, 174 Main street, for weighing and measuring, then to go to the family physician for his examination. Miss Robinson will be in the office, July 16 and 17 for the inspection of the children.

If at this time they are found to qualify for the seven point certificate these will be given before school begins. If defects are found there will still be eight weeks in which to have corrections made before school, so that the child will not be handicapped in any way.

VISIT AFTER MANY YEARS

Clara Woodley, whom we knew many years ago, called on us this week. She is the daughter of the late T. E. Woodley, superintendent of the B. F. Spinney & Co.'s factory here in the eighties. Then she was a little girl, but now a woman of almost a half century and the mother of five children, only one now living. She was with her and is called "Betty," though named Elizabeth, and is 20 years old and a junior in the University of Illinois.

The little Miss Clara of years ago now is Mrs. A. G. DeClercq of 9856 South Leavitt Street, Chicago, and the wife of the construction engineer of the big electric company of that city. Her mother died when she was 13 and her father remarried and his widow is now living in Michigan.

Mrs. DeClercq stopped at the Lakeside Inn and took the train for Monrteal and Quebec, Wednesday morning. She also called on her father's relatives in Lynn, Mass.

John Judkins, rural mail carrier, commenced his 29th year of service, July 1st.

As this was charter night, Fred Gabbi of Portland, district governor, presented the charter with appropriate ceremony. A banquet was served by Norway Grange. At present, the Club has twenty-seven members.

A special attraction has been secured for the "Pirates' Den," Lake Pennesseewassee, on Saturday night. The famous Dancing DuPonts, from the Keith-Albee Vaudeville Circuit, and leading night clubs, will demonstrate tap dancing de luxe in specialty numbers which are certain to please. They come direct from the Silver Slipper Night Club, Boston, having made hits at Cozy Grill, Montreal; Cocoanut Grove, N. C., and other popular dance pavilions.

The I. O. O. F. cast will repeat the comedy drama, "Applesauce" at Meserve's Theatre, Bridgton, Tuesday evening, Aug. 6. This will be presented under the auspices of Walker Camp R. N. A. The play made a hit in Norway Opera House for its keen wit, philosophical applesauce and mild satire on modern home life. Being a royalty play, arrangements have been made with Samuel French of New York for the Bridgton performance.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Twombley of Roxbury, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bridge of Winthrope, Mass., arrived Sunday for two weeks' vacation, with rooms at Mrs. Annie Sampson's. A MORNING WALK

W. H. Lord

One pleasant summer morning.
As the sun began to rise;
A thought of wonder took me
And it took me by surprise.

A thought of pleasant nature
After breakfast, I might see;
With the wood-bine leaves about me,
And the singing chickadee.

Now, I was on my journey
With all troubles underway.
To see and visit nature,
In the pleasant, sunny day.

For my labor had been finished,
Just the day before;
So, the holiday was mine,
And I hoped that many more.

So I took across the meadows
To the forest, way in view;
With the thought of seeing nature,
In a fascinating hue.

As I walked among the pine trees,
I could surely see,
Pretty, little squirrels
Chattering away to me.

They seemed to have their holiday,
As I was having mine;
In among the branches,
And the glorious sunshine.

Still, I went on my journey,
Among forest trees so gay;
While all around, I heard the sound,
That nature seemed to play.

Surely, God was in the forest
And the beauty, oh, so fine,
That all the world seemed quite unfurled
To me, with that sunshine.

The world was bright about me,
And everything seemed gay;
For nature had a part
That nothing else could play.

And solitude is about you,
If you really stop to think;
You can walk into the forest,
Or by the river's brink.

Yet, you can only find
What your interest employs;
For nature will surround you,
And it's nature with your joys.

AIRPORTS IN NEW ENGLAND

New England can boast of 150 airports and landing fields, according to a survey now being completed by the Committee on Aviation of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Questionaires on airway marking and landing field facilities were recently sent by the committee to Postmasters, American Legion Posts, Newspapers, Chambers of Commerce, electric light and power companies, and Ford dealers throughout New England. In all, approximately 3,500 questionaires were sent out and over one thousand replies have been received.

According to this survey there are 53 airports and landing fields in Massachusetts, 28 in Maine, 20 in New Hampshire, 21 in Vermont, 7 in Rhode Island and 20 in Connecticut. Of course, many of the fields shown in the survey are purely emergency fields, although a few of them are being expanded to a point where they can secure a Department of Commerce rating.

The cities and towns in Maine reporting airports and landing fields are as follows: Auburn; Augusta; Bangor; Belfast; Bridgton; Brunswick; Buckfield; Calais; Caribou; Farmington; Fryeburg; Gardiner; Greenville; Hallowell; Lewiston; Lincoln; Lovell; North Haven; Oakland; Old Orchard; Portland; Rockland; Rumford; Stonington; South Paris; Searboro; Strong; Wells.

Whenever You're Away
Most families when they travel, most men when they make business trips of even a few days' duration, carry Baggage Insurance.
Have you considered the practical economy of covering baggage losses by the year? The occasions in the next twelve months on which your personal effects will be outside the greater security of your home on short trips will likely add up to more actual risk than the longer trips.
Let us show you how economical yearly Baggage Insurance is.

KEZAR FALLS

Quiet Fourth—Young People Employed for Summer—Dolly Copp Camping Ground Enjoyed by Local People.

The church and school bells, cannons and fire crackers were blissfully quiet on the glorious Fourth and the preceding night. Patriotism being honored more in the breach than in the observance.

All our young people are making "day while the sun shines". Arlene and Dorothy Watson, Claire Kittredge and Minerva Cross are in Boothbay Harbor, where they have employment for the summer. Allen F. Garner is at work in the woolen mill, John Garner and Howard Luck undaunted by manual labor, Allen M. Cheilis is driving a truck. In point of fact all our young people are seeking, accomplishing and not shirking, believing that to "work while they work and play while they play, is the very best way to be cheerful and gay".

Madeline Wakefield, a nurse from Jamaica Plain, and Helen, a teacher in Everett, Mass., are both at their home for a vacation.

Mrs. Helen Demerritt and her brother, Charles Taylor, who were in New York for the winter, have returned and are occupying their summer home.

Helene Ford, who has been the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Leitch, for the two past weeks at Pine Point, returned home with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Ford, Sunday evening.

Harold Jones and his mother have been the holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merrifield.

Thunder showers and torrential rains cooled the air and revived the drooping foliage, Sunday evening and at midnight.

In the state of New Hampshire is an elysian field or in other words a tract of land which the state has kindly reserved for the use of tourists and picnickers. A stream runs through it and a bridge is the connecting link between either side. There are fire places, chimneys, a good sized table, several rustic seats and a spring of good cold water. Many Kezar Falls people have availed themselves of the privileges afforded.

It is known among them by the name of the Dolly Copp Camping Ground. Large hospitable white birch trees standing on the rim, or rather where once was the bank of the river, hospitably inviting the wayfarer to share their shade, added to the beauty of the landscape. But a change is coming over the scene; the despoiler is here, there, and everywhere. Despite the injunction nailed in plain view, "Do not take the bark off the trees," the marauding hands of the pilferer are sapping the life and strength of the once stalwart birches by despoiling them of their coat of mail. There are many trails open to automobile travel, there are many trees which line the way, but if you catch the flashing sheen of a white birch you will note with deep regret that the unprincipled destroyer has left his mark.

NORTH WATERFORD

Reuben Riley Nason

Reuben Riley Nason passed away early Saturday morning, July 6, at his home at North Waterford from endocarditis, with which he was stricken about three weeks before. He has been in poor health for many years, being confined to his room a greater part of the time.

He was born in Denmark, May 11th, 1857, the son of John and Lavina Chick Nason, one of a family of eleven children. Mr. Nason was a farmer, dealt extensively in cattle, was well known in the logging woods and was an expert charcoal burner. Coming to North Waterford some forty-three years ago he bought the farm and built the house where he has since lived. Shortly after, he married Miss Josephine Mae Decker of Bethlehem, N. H., who survives. Eight children were born to them, Clinton, who gave up his work and came home to care for his parents, Mrs. Myrtle Blake, Clyde and Miss Hazel Nason, R. N. of Portland, who survives and one daughter, Edith, who drowned when a young girl and three other children died in infancy. There is also one grandson and one great grandson, one brother and a host of other relatives.

Services were held at the home at 2:30, Monday, attended by Rev. Mr. Townsend of the Oxford United Parish. Interment was in the family lot in Woodlawn cemetery, where the committal service was read.

Mr. Nason was known far and wide and many and beautiful flowers spoke of the esteem in which he was held. Among those out of town attending were Wm. Nason and son, Alva, of West Bridgton, Mr. and Mrs. Will Tripp of Sabbath Day Lake, Edgar Decker and daughter, Mrs. Lillian McKenna, Roscoe Decker of Ridlonville, Mr. and Mrs. Ozro Decker of South Waterford, Mrs. James Nason and Mrs. Hattie Harmon of Limington, Mrs. Eliza Hibbard of Harrison, Mrs. Clara Chesley, Mrs. Augusta Riley and John Tubbs of South Bridgton, Mrs. Genella Berry and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hibbard of Bridgton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole of Standish, Mrs. Susie E. Nason and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Charles and daughter, Georgia and son, Leland of South Paris.

WATERFORD

Heath Family Reunion

On July 7th, the usual family gathering took place in Waterford at the old Heath home. The event was the celebration of two birthdays. Mrs. Heath's was the 5th and Mr. Heath's was the 7th.

A picnic dinner was enjoyed on the lawn, under the beautiful elm trees. Mr. and Mrs. Heath were presented with four birthday cakes, a willow rocker, an Indian blanket, one-half dozen glasses, a nice pipe, tobacco pouch and several other things.

During the day bathing was enjoyed in Keoka Lake. It was a most enjoyable occasion. Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Will Heath were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heath and daughter, Frances; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heath and two sons, James and Carl, Jr., and daughter Bessie, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Howe and two daughters, June and Eva and two sons, Theodore and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Burbank Strout and daughter, Dolly, and sons, Robert and Tommy, and Mr. and Mrs Bert Heath.

While a town is working to become a bigger town, it should not lose sight of the aim to become a better town.

Aziscoos Lake Trip

Bosebuck Camps and Report of Fish Stocking Treasurer and List of Contributors

We made a recent trip into the Magalloway district. It was on Wednesday, the day before the Fourth. The number of autos passing us was kept. Record follows: From Paris to Bethel—28 miles—42 cars, from Bethel to Milan, N. H., 120 and from there to Wilson's Mills 14, total 262 cars, distance 112 miles, time 4 1-2 hours on the road. Walter didn't hurry.

Last year we skipped this fishing trip. It was on account of sickness and not as some supposed, because we got pulled in 1926 for fishing in unmarked, closed waters of Twin Brooks. We visited the brook this year and failed to see notices of its being closed, but knowing it refrained from fishing.

The usual number of fishermen have been at Bosebuck Camps this season. The lake has been filled with water all the season and still is almost up to the flashboards at the present time.

Many good fish have been taken this season in the Big River and at the Dam. We had exceptionally good fishing at the mouth of brooks in the lake, though most of them were small.

The results of recent stocking of Aziscohoos Lake is apparent. More fish are in evidence at the mouth of brooks than ever before. They vary in length from 5 to 8 inches. We visited a half dozen places and found it the same in all.

The report of the Treasurer of the Contributors for stocking the past two years is given. It shows who have helped and what has been done with the money. The visiting sportsmen have assisted liberally for this year's planting of fish. The report follows:

NORWAY AND I

(A Hope and a Promise)

By Kathleen Smith

I saw no flags bedeck your walls,
I heard no lusty cheers,
There was naught but the dismal rain
To greet my eager ears.
I stood, a stranger, sorrowing,
Without your shelt'ring gates,
And, wrapt in timely solitude,
I vowed by all the fates
That when, O, Norway, you should make
My heart once more rejoice,
I'd unweave all the eloquence
Of my pen's resounding voice.
My youthful folly seems obscure;
All jest and mirth have stayed
In a land where once I knew them well,
Where laughter first was made.
When a blue-bird's song seems like a song,
And my own is free from sighs,
I'll write to you an ode to tell
Wherein your beauty lies.
You shall share the throne of fame with me,
If ever it is mine.
You shall hold with me fame's laurel wreath
With magic script entwined.
I'll tell them 'twas your lakes and hills
That made me love the place,
But most, the welcome smile I saw
On each Norwegian's face.

Gala Day

Field Day of the Central Maine Power Company

Employes in the Western Division of the Central Maine Power Co. and their families, assembled on Oxford County fair grounds, June 22 for the second annual field day. Nearly 300 were present with many participating in the track events, field sports, ball game, tug-of-war, and other contests during the afternoon.

A band of twenty-four pieces with Myron Watson of Auburn played at intervals. This is a newly incorporated outfit, composed of C. M. P. Co. employes from Lewiston, Augusta, Rockland and Bath. A foundation has been laid for a strong musical organization with promise of becoming one of the prominent industrial bands in Maine. Incidentally a live orchestra has been assembled and composed of band volunteers. The outfit furnished music for dancing in Wm. Henry Stone Post, American Legion Hall, Norway, after a supper in dining halls on the grounds.

The outing proved a red letter day for all hands, from Division officials and down the line of managers, employes and their wives to a bunch of tiny tots, who scrambled for two hundred pennies buried in a sand bank.

The bunch lined up to be "shot" as two narrow pictures prove. Watson's band in uniform may be seen in the center.

Glimpses of the main show are offered in the large cut. A few horses would make it look like county fair time. Both half tones were loaned by the Exciter, a snappy magazine of eight pages, published monthly by the C. M. P. Co.

GIVEN UP MAN HUNT

Searching for a strange man believed to have set three fires around North Norway has been called off while waiting for the next move. Excitement still lingers in that district and opinions on the subject differ to a marked degree. Some discount the wild man stories, believing the fires occurred in natural course of events and just "happened" that way. Others are convinced a firebug has been at work and is hiding in the woods. Stories of cows milked in the pasture, food disappearing from farm houses, and strange men seen in berry patches are given as proofs to substantiate the firebug belief.

For three days a systematic hunt conducted by Sheriff Harry O. Stimson and his deputies with the assistance of volunteers prove futile. Capt. E. M. Wiley's douberman pinscher dogs from Augusta picked up trails that circled a four acre lot or led into dense woods and swale.

After three or four days running down stories and false clews, Sheriff Stimson called off the dogs, believing a man could not lie concealed in the woods so many days without food or protection from the weather. Heavy showers Sunday probably obliterated tracks, if any, not taken up by the dogs.

The excitement started from stories of persons seeing a strange man or men in the vicinity just before and following three fires of mysterious origin. The farm buildings of Virgil Dunn in Yagger were burned, one week later Frank W. Noyes lost his buildings, then followed the discovery of a blaze in the tie-up at Chester G. French's place. Each fire originated in the barn.

A climax was reached July 3, directly after the French fire. Company C, 103rd Infantry was called out and several hundred men left their work and all hands joined in a hunt for an alleged firebug, said to have been seen fleeing the premises.

Charles Garrison of New York has arrived at Dr. Strader's camp for the month of July.

Irwin Robbins spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Herrick at Northwest Norway.

Calcium Chloride is being used on a number of streets not included in the sprinkling district.

Mrs. Imogene Brown, now living in Bethel, spent the Fourth here with her son, Cleve Brown.

Signs are to be posted around the property of the Norway Water Co., warning against bathing and other acts which might pollute the town's water supply.

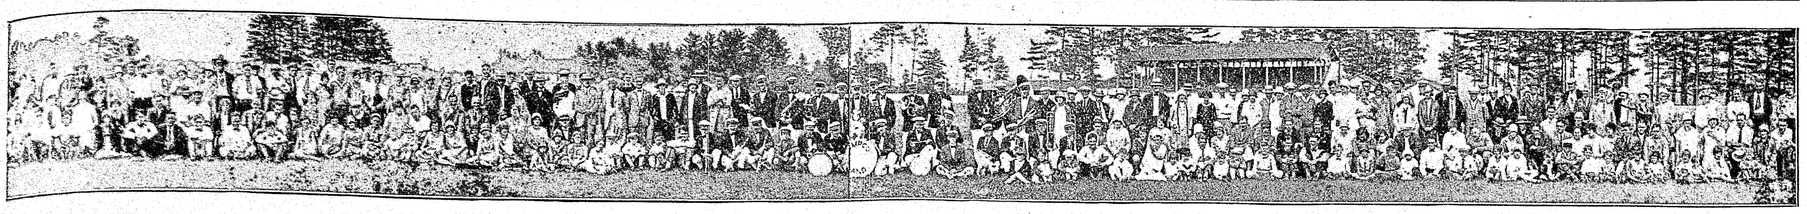

A dinner will be served next Wednesday, July 17th at Community Hall by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church. The special portion of the menu will be cream tartar biscuit and sherbet. Mrs. Carrie Philbrook is chairman of the committee.

We called on Charles G. Blake at his home on Cottage Street, last Tuesday. He is suffering an ill turn for the past week or so and is confined to his bed, but is hopeful and cheerful. His health has been so as to permit him to ride out in an auto and wheel chair for some time past up to the gathering of an abscess on the hip some ten days ago.

The glorious Fourth passed without much disturbance during the early hours. Only a few small articles were carted away and deviltry of former days was conspicuous by its absence. Fireworks, fire crackers and horns were by no means absent and flags floated in conspicuous places. Many left town for camps and visits, others went to the races, attended the ball game or the movies.

Thomas Huston's houseboat arrived by rail and was hauled Friday to Norway Lake village with Bert Wood's team. They had a launching that attracted attention and the boat was towed to the east side of Lake Pennesseewassee. After some interior changes, the boat will find a mooring near the head of the lake. Mr. and Mrs. Huston plan to use the floating house only for day visits, but may make other plans as the season progresses.

A breakfast was given at the Country Club house, Paris Hill, by the Misses June Smith and Elizabeth Hall of Norway in honor of Miss Marita Cushman of Norway, and Miss Geraldine Stewart of South Paris, two brides-to-be. Breakfast was served with covers laid for 14. The table appointments were in the pastel shades. The centerpiece was a large bowl of garden flowers in blue and gold. Following the coffee, bridge was in order. After the scores were counted Joline Swett, in blue and white, appeared with a decorated doll carriage, and Master Peyson Luce, in green and white, with a wheelbarrow. Both vehicles were filled with packages, wrapped in tissue. This proved to be a bridge shower, and both guests received many dainty articles appropriate for the game. In the group were besides the honor guests, Miss Cushman and Miss Stewart and the hostesses, Miss Smith and Miss Hall, Miss Alice Bartlett, Mrs. Ruth Huston, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings, Mrs. Eva Swett, Mrs. Virginia Luce, Miss Laurestein Foster, of Norway, Miss Gertrude and Miss Barbara Brooks of Paris Hill, Mrs. Lucia Mason and Miss Miriam Chapman of South Paris.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Len Sessions, the village farmer, has things coming his way this year. One of his hens laid a double yolk egg which weighed four ounces, and twice the size of the normal product. In the garden, corn is 3 feet tall and in the spindle, while tomatoes are ready to ripen.

Published by request of a bachelor: "Tell young ladies to put on more underlay in hot weather. It's dazzling to the eyes when they walk between the observer and the sun." Office comment: "Not so bad after all. We'll take a chance on eyesight."

Stanley Pratt of Oxford saw a large doe with three fawns near the State highway while driving to Norway, Tuesday. The four were marching single file, and Mr. Pratt drove close before his car was seen by the old mother. Three quickly vanished in the woods, leaving one inquisitive fawn to satisfy a natural curiosity for a longer peek. The fawns looked exactly alike in size and arrangement of spots, which leads the observer to think he gazed on triplets.

Henry Schroeder of Long Island, N. Y., who is summering in Center Lovell, called Friday afternoon. Mr. Schroeder is one of the real fishermen who enjoys the game for the sport of the thing and satisfied to observe the law. Twitchell Pond has been a favorite spot for bass and square tails, but we judge he is clever enough to catch a strike anywhere fish abound.

Charles P. Wilson of South Paris raises gladioli for a hobby and happy while out in the broiling sun weeding and admiring the garden of blossoms. He set out 1653 bulbs, many are the salmon and white variety, but the majority have high toned names and represent considerable money. He resides with his sister, Mrs. Cyrus Durgin, opposite Norway Pine Grove cemetery with the garden in the rear of the house near the branch railroad.

O. W. Brown, city editor of the Lynn-Telegram News, writes that his wife had a shock on June 27 and has been in bed since. She is reported better and the danger point has passed for the present, according to the doctor. Mrs. Brown had the honor of receiving at her bedside the Marchioness of Townshend, Mayor of Kings' Lynn, England, when the distinguished guest was attending the Lynn tercentenary celebration.

Mr. Cameron is stopping at Jas. M. Woodhouse's cottage at Lake Thompson in Oxford and comes to Norway often to do shopping. Mr. Cameron was employed for more than thirty years on the Hartford Times at Hartford, Ct. He has spent a number of winters in Florida and related some of the big slumps which took place when the slump came some four years ago. In referring to the terrific tornado there, he said, "Staid old New England weather is the best all year 'round weather there is."

The pair of heavy lens glasses which D. L. Joslin found the day before the Fourth proved to be the property of Mrs. Etta Damon. The other pair of glasses found the last week in June by Norman Goodwin still remain here. These evidently belong to someone working in one of the shoe shops by the contents.

Orchard Street is the home of vegetable gardens tilled by women. Mrs. William C. Leavitt has a weedless garden, Mrs. A. J. Stearns features a good sized patch free from weeds, and Mrs. George Hill also claims land free from undesired growth. Potatoes, beans, beets, lettuce, tomatoes and other crops flourish in the Adamless gardens.

Cty Editor, O. W. Brown, gets on the first page of the Telegraph-News last Monday. He is shown presenting the visiting Marchioness of Townshend, England, with a photograph album of the scenes in connection with the Tercentenary of Lynn, Mass. "Os" shows off to good advantage, as does the Marchioness.

We received the following from a friend in a Massachusetts city: "Dear Advertiser 'folks'. Have been looking for Bethel items the past few weeks. Now that Doris has moved to West Bethel she probably wont send anymore. Wish you would try to get someone else that can scrape up who has shingled his shed or raised the biggest squash in town! Best wishes. Hope business in the twin cities is better than here." Fine. We have started in to locate someone to write the news from Bethel.

D. Cromett Clark writes from his home in Somerville, Mass.: "Please correct the report via Sumner, that I fell down stairs and broke my leg. I fell and was injured, and it made me lame, but that was some years ago, not some months ago, and no bone was broken. I had occasion to tell your efficient Sumner correspondent the reason why I am less active than I used to be, and it is easy to see how he understood that it was something recent, and must have been a break. With best wishes to you and to my good friend, Mr. Bartlett, who writes your Sumner correspondence. D. Cromett Clark."

Public Men I Have Known

Randall L. Taylor, Adelbert Delano, Edward F. Faunce

Sketch No. 18, by C. F. Whitman

Three of the most companionable officials whom I served with in county office were Randall L. Taylor of Mexico, Adelbert Delano of Canton and Edward F. Faunce of Oxford.

Mr. Taylor was born in July, 1850, in Roxbury, Me., and was therefore about two and a half years younger than myself. Mr. Delano was perhaps a little older. He has been gone for a number of years. He served in Capt. Dumont Bunker's Co. E, Me. Coast Guards, from Jan. 7th to July 7th, 1865, with eleven other volunteers from Canton during the Civil War. His age then was given as 18. He, like many others, might have stated his age as 18, for the purpose of entering the service when he was really younger. Anyhow, I always felt that he was about my age. Mr. Faunce was two years my senior. He too had been a volunteer soldier in the Civil War—serving on the Maine Coast as a Corporal, at Fort Popham in Capt. Augustine Thompson's Co., from Oct. 25, 1864, to July 6, 1865. While he was a county commissioner, he attended a reunion of the G. A. R. at Minneapols, Minnesota, one very hot summer. The journey undermined his health and its effects proved fatal to him. I felt his loss keenly.

All three were good officials, but Taylor was the ablest of them. Before he was elected county commissioner, he had served in the lower house of the Maine Legislature and from the time he was twenty-one years old, he was continuously in town office. High taxes and schemes that people could not afford always had his able and determined opposition and in these respects he never changed to the day of his death in April of this year.

Mr. Taylor's passing came as a shock to me. I did not know how old he was, and had written to him for some dates, stating that I had something in mind to write about him, in the Advertser, showing my appreciation of him. A few days after a letter from his daughter, Mary, was received, stating that a night or two before her father passed away in his sleep. It is a great satisfaction to have learned from her message that my letter to him afforded him much pleasure and satisfaction.

To show my appreciation of him, the following is in point: At one term of the court at Rumford, after his service on the board of county commissioners—he having received an injury—yet he had come into court to witness the proceedings and enjoy a little vacation from his work. It happened that a few of the jurymen were excused to look after their planting, which left one panel short of enough by one man to organize. The judge asked me to issue a venire and summon in some extra jurymen, but I suggested that a few talesmen could be obtained from the spectators, which would not delay the proceedings, as I saw some persons among them whom I knew would make good jurymen and mentioned Mr. Taylor as one of them. "Call them, then, Mr. Clerk," he said. Mr. Taylor was selected as the twelfth man on the second jury and two or three others for supernumeraries. Mr. Taylor's jury organized with selecting him as foreman. That was unusual and had the presiding justice been Chief Justice Emery, I doubt whether he would not have required the clerk to issue venires to draw jurymen in the regular manner instead of taking talesmen from the spectators. But the judge was well pleased with Mr. Taylor's management of his jury through the term. No foreman ever handled his jury better with the exception of S. Porter Stearns of Paris, who was my ideal of what a foreman of a jury should be.

It has been the practice in this county, after the term of a county commissioner was fixed by act of the legislature at six years to select the three members of the board from the different sections of the county—northern, central and western—and one is elected every two years. Practically the man desired by the leading men in his section is selected. This system has worked well in practice and able officials have been elected to this important, position. In most cases there has been no contests of moment. As I remember, there was practically no opposition, if any, to the nomination of Adelbert Delano, but when the friends of Edward F. Faunce brought him forward as a candidate, it appeared that some Norway men were favorable to the nomination of Edward W. Penley. On "a count of noses," it was ascertained that the Norway delegates to the convention if they should act together, could elect either one of them. Both had warm supporters in Norway, and Penley in that respect, by far the lead. But John Robinson of Oxford, however, decided the question in favor of Faunce. Learning what the situation was, he came up to Norway "feather white" and told the party leaders that as long as Oxford was in the Norway representative district and had always supported Norway men and measures, it was their duty to favor Oxford's candidate and if they didn't do it in the present case, they need not expect any further consideration from Oxford. This was a settler. The delegates were all swung to Faunce and he was nominated.

Some business enterprises can exist in a way without publicity, but they cannot make progress—cannot keep pace with the trend of the times—and they must eventually admit that they are losing ground.

Saco Valley United Parish

Held Big Fourth of July Celebration

Splendid crowds attended the Fourth of July celebration arranged by the United Parish held on the grounds of the Harbor church on Thursday. The day's program opened with a Grand Parade headed by the North Fryeburg Band, which had kindly donated its services for the day. The gaily decorated truck of the Lovell Campfire Girls, the beautiful baby carriage in charge of Effie Forest, and the quaint wedding group with Mildred Hancock as bride, and Nina McKeen as groom were features of the parade, and also the bicycles all trimmed in gaudy colors. The land sports in charge of Carl Sewell followed the parade. The following were the winners:

50 yard dash, boys—1, Elwood Bemis; 2, Glenwood Libby; 3, Byron Charles.

Junior—1, Ralston Bennett; 2, Russell Severance; 3, Erwin Hodsdon.

Junior Girls—1, Margaret Quincy; 2, Pearl Bemis; 3, Violet Hutchins.

75 yard dash, Senior Girls—1, Marguerite Allen; 2, Dorothy Walker; 3, Harriet Conant.

100 yard dash—1, Ted Woodbury; 2, W. P. Leonard; 3, John Hall.

Potato Race. Junior Boys—1, Will Quincy; 2, Norman Allen; 3, H. Quincy.

Potato Relay—1, Lovell; 2, Harbor; 3, North Fryeburg.

Cross Country—1, Ellsworth Guptill; 2, Wallace Jones; 3, Aimie Filion.

Greasy Pole—Nobody managed to climb to the top.

Following dinner, at which some two hundred sat down and which was served by the combined ladies aids and circles of the parish adjournment was made to Leslie McKeen's field, and here, in spite of the rain, two baseball games were played during the afternoon, the Lovell Pioneers playing boys from the rest of the parish; and a team picked by Holmes Gould matched against a line-up made by J. Kilgour. "Killy" umpired the games to the satisfaction of all, the only objectional feature was the home plate's proximity to the river.

Canoe races filled the time after supper. In the double paddles James Merrill and James Guptill came first and Aimie Filion and Henry Severance, second. In the singles, James Merrill won the red ribbon and Aimie Filion the blue.

The Rev. Bert Wentworth of the Oxford County Larger Parish, brought reels of "The Spoilers of the West" and they were shown in the basement of the church instead of in the open air as at first announced.

The whole day passed with particular happiness, and was unique in that workers from every part of the parish combined to make it a success. The Lovell Campfire Girls did splendid work at the ice cream and soft drink booth; the Harbor Men's Club served hot dogs to folk too hungry to wait their turn in the dining room; girls of the Harbor Center and North Fryeburg managed a fish pond. The United Parish treasury is richer by almost $150 as a result of the day's activities.

TEETHING BABIES DO WELL ON Scott's Emulsion

YOUTHFUL BIFOCALS

As folks grow older their eyes lose the elasticity of youth and a different correction is necessary for near and far distances.

That is why ordinary bifocals are telltales of advancing years Not so with Nokrome. It's reading segment is practically invisible so that the lenses are as good looking as single vision lenses.

Another advantage—Nokromes are free from color fringes, which means that in the reading segment as well as the distance portion your glasses will give sharp, sparkling definition.

The Nokrome is the finest lens known to optical science. That is why we recommend it.

Passes at Eighty Years

The death of Henry Hamlin Russ occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. P. C. Lapham, at Bethel, Saturday, July 6, at 3:10 p. m.

Mr. Russ was born at Woodstock, Me., Dec. 27, 1848, the son of Jas. and Mary Adams Russ and made his home in his native town until about one and one-half years ago, when he went to Bethel to live with his daughter.

He was a farmer by occupation, choosing his vocation because of his love for God's great out-of-door. Seemingly, he imbibed strength from the rugged hills and mountains for he was a man of great physical endurance, seldom having a day's illness and almost never requiring the services of a physician during his long life of eighty years, until his last illness, which he bore with great patience and fortitude, never complaining, though at times suffering great discomfort. Mr. Russ was one who was interested in the best welfare of his town, always helping wherever needed.

Fifty-four years ago, on March 22, he was united in marriage with Miss Alice J. Cotton of Woodstock, who survives him. Not many are privileged to enjoy so many years of wedded happiness together. Four children were born of this union, Mrs. Mary E. Lapham of Bethel, Mrs. Stella E. Sessions of Abbott's Mills, Walter I. Russ of Auburn, Albert H. Russ of Woodstock, all of whom are living, making over one-half a century in which this family have enjoyed companionship together with not a break in the family circle until the father was called to the Great Beyond last Saturday, leaving the family sorrowing for their loved one. Especially hard is it for Mrs. Russ, who is in frail health. The neighbors and friends, of which he had many, will miss hs cheerful smile and kindly word of greeting as he was of a genial nature and loved the comradeship of those about him.

Besides those already mentioned, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Nettie Bragg, of North Edgecomb, the last surviving member of a family of eight children, five grandchildren, Mrs. Hazel Fuller of Portland, Mrs. Isabelle Fuller of Upton, Miss Bessie Russ of Auburn, Miss Esther Lapham of Bethel, Miss Irvina Russ of Auburn, and four great grandchildren.

ALLEGED FIREBUG ONLY A VAGRANT

A roughly dressed man of disreputable appearance was before Trial Justice Albert D. Park at South Paris, Friday, on the charge of vagrancy. He said his name was Edward Gallagher and his home in Calais. That he had been working in the woods until recently and was on the way to his home. A suspended sentence of 30 days for vagrancy was imposed on condition he leave town immediately. This he did, but that did not end the story.

Gallagher's association with the law started in Gilead last week, when Sheriff H. O. Stimson of South Paris received word that a bad customer, possibly the Norway firebug, was hanging around Gilead village. Deputy Sheriff Frank Hunt of Bethel took the man into custody and after a lengthy examinaton in the sheriff's office at South Paris, the stranger was released.

Late in the afternoon, Sheriff Stimson again rounded up the wanderer, who had been taking in the sights and unconsciously starting another firebug story.

After a night in jail and court action, the tourist landed in Norway. The sheriff was called to Water Street, where the telephone message said, "the Norway firebug is being detained" and once again met the familiar traveler. A ticket was bought to Portland and the ever present visitor put aboard a fast express. He was told to forget the Welcome signs on highways leading to both towns, they are not for him.

LITTLE COUNTRY PAPER

I get a little paper from a little country town—
A far cry from the dailies, that on Sundays weigh us down;
It's printed every Friday, and it has no supplement,
Nor colored rotogravure, but I'm always glad it's sent.
It gives no clever verses by syndicated birds,
But states that Mrs. Williams entertained some friends at cards;
"Ye Scribe" saw Judge McArthur shaking hands with friends today:
It says the Curtis family sold out and moved away.
On Boulder Dam it's silent, and there's nothing on finance—
It tells that the Rebekahs gave an entertainment dance.
That Miss Day is returning soon to open up her school.
That Alexander Hargrave lost a valuable mule.
It's glad that Jimmie Gallagher can be around again.
It claims that the alfalfa crop is much in need of rain;
The supervisors voted for the road work to commence;
Will Anderson hauled lumber for his new garage and fence.
The worldly ones may smile at it, its claims are tender smiles—
These home town items form a bond through many years and miles.
Oh little country paper, with your little say-so talks!
I like to wander with you down your unfrequented roads and walks.

An Oakland coach with Massachusetts registration turned turtle on the state highway near the Smith farm, Sunday forenoon. The machine went into the ditch and caught fire around the dashboard and engine, but the lone occupant was unharmed. Chief Giles Frost, Assistant Chief Arsene Blacquiere and Myron Paragard responded to a call and rushed to the scene with extinguishers in the chief's car. The blaze had been held in check with dirt until the firemen put out the flames with one extinguisher. The damage by fire was slight.
